The Reid H. Montgomery Adviser-of-the-Year Award
Nomination Form

Who may nominate an adviser for this award?
- a current or former publications adviser who knows the nominee's qualifications;
- a current or former student editor and/or staff who works/worked with the nominee;
- the nominee's principal or assistant principal.

Criteria:
- Nominee must be currently advising a South Carolina scholastic newspaper/newsmagazine, online program, yearbook, literary magazine, and/or broadcast program.
- Nominee must have been an active adviser for more than five years although all of them do not have to be at their current school.
- Past recipients of this award may not be nominated again.
- Nominee's publication(s) must be a SCSPA member.

Material to submit:
At least two letters of recommendation – these may be from the principal, the adviser's department head, an editor, a staff member, a faculty member, a parent or any other person who knows this individual as a scholastic journalism adviser.
Samples of the adviser's staff(s)' work- a magazine, copies of newspapers, a yearbook, a link to a broadcast, or a link to a website.

Nomination deadline: received by the SCSPA office by March 15.

Send materials to SCSPA: Adviser of the Year, 800 Sumter Street, SJMC/USC, Columbia, S.C. 29208